Edgar T. Washburn of Buffalo
Wiped Out His Family and Committed Suicide.

VICTIMS LAY DEAD IN BED.

Murderer Picked Up a Mirror, Took Aim and Shot Himself in the Right Temple.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 15.—Edgar T. Washburn of the grain firm of Heathfield & Washburn, shot and killed his wife and 15-year-old daughter today at their residence and then committed suicide. It is believed the deed was committed while Mr. Washburn was suffering from a temporary fit of insanity. He had written a letter to a relative recently, saying he was having trouble in business.

The tragedy was discovered by a relative who called at the Washburn home shortly before noon. When the police arrived they found Mrs. Washburn and her daughter lying dead, side by side in bed. Washburn was dead on the floor at the foot of the bed. Evidence on the floor showed the girl first shot by her father. When Mr. Washburn, the day in bed, was partly raised, he was shot in the head. The bullet entered the right temple and caused instant death. Washburn then picked up a mirror to take aim and shot himself in the right temple.

The news of the tragedy had the effect of paralyzing the grain exchange for the remainder of the day. Washburn was an ardent spiritualist. When he first entered the room, he said he saw the spirits of his wife and daughter. He attributed his success to advice received through mediums.

DESERET TRIED TO ESCAPE.

Seizes a Boat, Refuses to Stop And is Shot by Sentry.

New York, July 15.—Three soldiers imprisoned on Governor's Island for desertion, tried to escape in a row boat. One of them, Private Alfred Bostwick, was shot by a sentry. The bullet passed through Bostwick's jaw and he will probably die. His two companions, when they saw Bostwick wounded, promptly stopped rowing. They were overhauled, taken back to the island and put in the guardhouse. Bostwick's companions were William Rhetner and a man named Cox. They had been model prisoners and Bostwick was to have been released Aug. 1. Rhetner would have been freed two months later but was not aware of the shortening of their terms.

The prisoners were at work on an extension of the island defenses being made by filling in. No particular attention was paid to them and they seized the opportunity to escape by wading into the bay and seizing a row boat. One seized the oars and headed for Brooklyn.

A patrol ran along the sea wall and called upon them to come back, but no attention was paid to him and he fired five shots. Bostwick, who lay prone in the boat, was hit in the chest. The bullet passed through his liver and severed an artery. An army boat by that time had overhauled the rowers and towed them back to the island. Bostwick's companions were not wounded.

JAPS SUSTAINED HEAVY LOSSES.

Russians Recapture All the Positions Around Port Arthur
Lately Taken.

BROWN BOYS FLED IN DISORDER

Much Uncertainty as to Details, but
It is Evident a Big Battle Has Taken Place.

London, July 15.—A dispatch to the news agency from St. Petersburg, says the war office, announces the receipt of a dispatch from Port Arthur confirming the report that the Japanese sustained considerable losses on July 11, the exact particulars of which have not yet been ascertained. According to the dispatch, the Russians recaptured all the positions lately taken by the Japanese.

A delayed message from Ta. Tch. Kiao says the latest reports regarding the attempted storming of Port Arthur on July 10 place the Japanese losses in killed and wounded at 25,000 and those of the Russians at 5,500. The Japanese retired and the Russians occupied the position.

The Japanese have now changed their frontal position, and a big battle is expected at the eastern portion of the peninsula, leading to the Japanese turning movement.

A Japanese spy was captured today. He was dressed in the garb of a Chinese, and was remarkably cool and defiant in demeanor. He said he was a Korean by birth, had lived in Japan for 12 years and loved that country. Thousands like him, he declared, were convinced that the Japanese eventually would be successful, and he advised the Russians to sue for peace as soon as possible.

St. Petersburg advises that the lack of further official news regarding the engagement at Port Arthur on the night of July 10 is puzzling. That the Japanese were heavily defeated is not doubted here, but in the absence of further information the extent of the disaster that befell them is beginning to be seriously questioned.

Definite news has been received from Viceroy Alexieff's headquarters at Mukden that the week before the engagement at Port Arthur, Gen. Nogi, ministered a severe defeat on the Japanese on July 4 and on July 5, driving them from the heights commanding Lunsantan pass with a loss of 2,000. This is regarded as proof that there has been heavy fighting before the fortress of Port Arthur, and the silence of Tokio regarding it all the more significant.

A special dispatch from Ta. Tch. Kiao, dated July 14, repeats the account of the attempted storming of Port Arthur on July 10, and says that the Russians assumed the offensive, attacking with the bayonet. The Japanese retired in the wildest disorder. The Chinese estimate the Japanese losses at 22,000. The spirit of the Japanese, the dispatch says, is sinking as the result of the Port Arthur defeat.

The Tokio correspondent of the Times in a dispatch dated 9-45 p. m. July 15, says that the St. Petersburg story of a Japanese repulse with heavy casualties at Port Arthur July 10 is wholly discredited in Tokio, where no such reports have been received. It is believed that the story originated in Shanghai.

JAPS FLED IN DISORDER.

St. Petersburg, July 15.—A Russian correspondent of the Associated Press in the field repeats the story of a Japanese disaster at Port Arthur on July 10 but does not add any details except the statement that after the repulse the Japanese fled in great disorder, pursued by the Russians.

He says that an aide to Gen. Rennenkampf and seven Cossacks were wounded in the skirmish in which the Japanese fled between Liao Yang and Saimatza, in which the Japanese were repulsed.

Two divisions of Japanese reinforcements are landing at Dalney, the correspondent says. The Japanese prisoners captured on Black Mountain who died subsequently, were buried with military honors.

The authorities are unable to comprehend the reports of complaints of the failure of the Russian government to send intelligence concerning the Japanese prisoners. Two full reports have already been forwarded to the Japanese minister at Berlin and the receipt has been acknowledged. The embassy is convinced that Russia is doing everything possible to comply with her agreement and is furnishing reports of the names and condition of the Japanese prisoners.

GUARDING JAPANESE REAR.

Mukden, July 15.—All is quiet in the direction of the Russian left flank. The populace is following peaceful occupations and working in the fields. It seems certain that the Japanese right flank is weak.

According to the Chinese, the Japanese are making great preparations for the coming rains which are due in earnest about July 31. The rains heretofore have been merely chance downpours.

There is further confirmation of the reports that Koreans are guarding the Japanese rear. There are 10,000 Koreans regularly enrolled in the Japanese service, and these, with a large number of Japanese and Chinese officers, are guarding the lines of communication.

The Russians reconnoitered almost to Kai Chou before meeting the Japanese. They drew the sharp fire of the Japanese, but having found them, the Russians retired without loss.

AMBUSHED BY COSSACKS.

Liao Yang, July 15.—Gen. Samsonoff seriously checked the Japanese advance in the direction of Yinkow on July 11. His Cossacks ambushed the Japanese column and put 1,000 out of action. The Japanese attempted to advance to Yinkow along the coast but they were hindered by the marshy country, which also increased their difficulties in carrying off their dead and wounded during the retreat.

MUST STEAL OR STARVE.

Nine Times Convicted Man Asks To Be Sent to Penitentiary.

New York, July 15.—With a record of nine convictions and as many terms in prison, George W. Johnson has appealed to police Magistrate O'Brien for refuge in the penitentiary because he is unable to earn an honest living and must either steal or starve. The magistrate granted Johnson's plea with the proviso that he would send him to the penitentiary in order to keep him from temptation and in the meantime would try to find some work for the ex-convict where he would not be reminded of his past.

Johnson is 53 years old and well educated. In a long address to the court he attributed his downfall to gambling. After running through a fortune left by his father, he stole to secure the necessities of life and was sent to prison for five years. There he learned the trade of shoemaker, but soon found he was a marked man among fellow craftsmen and could not retain a position. He was driven again to steal and went through the same experience nine times. Johnson declared his experience, which he told in detail, to be a common one among ex-convicts, and said that, despite his repeated failures he was determined to live an honest life in future.

Benke, Volunteer Organist, Dead.

New York, July 15.—Victor H. Benke, the "volunteer organist," is dead. Many years have passed since Benke, a wretched tramp, thrilled the audience in a Bowery mission by volunteering to fill the place of the regular musician who was absent. His musical gift created a sensation among the denizens of the underworld, while the story was used as the foundation for numerous poems and dramas. Benke, who was a native of Austria, remained on the East Side despite his sudden popularity and continued to reside at the mission organ until his fatal illness.

Watching for Russian Ships.

Odessa, Russia, July 15.—The Russian steam Trower which has arrived from the Persian gulf, says the English are persistently spreading rumors to the effect that six armed Japanese merchantmen are lying in wait for Russian ships in the Red sea and the Persian gulf.

ORIENTAL COUNTRIES.

Their Attitude Towards United States is Very Favorable.

San Francisco, July 15.—Herbert H. D. Pierce, third assistant secretary of state, has just arrived here from an inspection tour of the American consulates in the Orient on his way back to Washington. He says that the attitude of oriental countries toward this nation is extremely favorable. This is particularly true of China. The policy of this country, diplomatically, with regard to China has won the confidence of the Chinese officials. They feel that the United States is not looking for territory and not trying to bleed the country, and that this is not a bad thing in their eyes. For that reason all that can be done to favor this country commercially is done.

Distinguished Japs Arrive.

San Francisco, July 15.—Several Japanese have just arrived here from the Orient on governmental missions. Kingo Ishii, who is a counselor of Nara-Kyo, Japan, comes as a delegate to the world's curfew congress at St. Louis, and is also a commissioner of the interior, agricultural and commercial departments. He will leave for St. Louis within a few days.

J. Hashimoto has been commissioned to come to America to make a thorough study of the cattle and meat packing industries, which the Japanese government engage in. He goes to Chicago.

Beaten to Death by Thugs.

Chicago, July 15.—Edward D. Bangs, superintendent of city lines for the Western Union Telegraph company, who is supposed to have been beaten by thugs on the morning of Nov. 28 of last year, is dead at his home, of concussion of the brain. Death was a direct result of the injury suffered in November. Mr. Bangs was found unconscious at 11 a. m. on Nov. 28, and died early on the morning of the supposed attack and the police, thinking him to be intoxicated, placed him in a cell, where he remained for several hours before he was removed to the hospital. No clew has ever been found to the identity of his assailants. By some the theory was advanced that his injuries were sustained in a fall.

Gorman Writes a Letter.

Baltimore, Md., July 15.—Senator Gorman, who has refused to see all interviewers or newspaper men since the organization of the St. Louis delegation, sent the following letter to each member of the Maryland delegation at St. Louis:

"Dear Sir—As I was deprived of the pleasure of accompanying you to St. Louis, I wish now to thank you for the part you took as a delegate from this state in the convention. The course of the Maryland delegation at St. Louis could not, I think, have been more successful. You undoubtedly exercised great influence in bringing about the result. The final action of Judge Parker in sending his telegram giving his views as to the monetary question, and in response of the convention to this telegram have placed the Democratic party in a position where, with the ticket nominated and the platform adopted, it should be successful in the coming election."

BEFORE THE POLICE BAR

At the afternoon session of police court yesterday, the star performer was Jennie Bellmore, the French girl, about the size of a minute, who was arrested by Officer Williams for argument as to the proper amount of clothing to be worn on Commercial street. The charge was indecent exposure and abusive language, and she was committed to jail.

Bellmore is a definition of that word "petite." She has a pair of black, dreamy eyes—which she used with considerable effect in the courtroom, by the way—and she speaks no English. Her performance while on the stand, the interpreter being the foil, was one that would do credit to Anna Held herself.

T. H. Donovan, charged with carrying concealed weapons, and using abusive language, was fined $55. The case was the result of a dispute in a Commercial street resort. Donovan pleaded guilty to flourishing the weapon and he was in close quarters and believed it necessary.

Annie Olsen, a 17-year-old girl, was charged with incorrigibility. There was evidence to show that she was a good worker when she does work, and as the county attorney's office could not recommend a term in the reform school as a remedy for her, she was released without forfeiture of bail and given one more chance to be better.

Austin Williams, the Pocatello youth who found a purse on a bench at Salt Lake and pocketed it without inquiring for the owner, was fined $25. He confessed that he had acted indiscreetly and was sorry repentant. Williams came down here on his honeymoon.

EXTENSIVE TRAVELERS

Always go one route, returning another. When you go east ask for tickets either going or returning via Colorado. George W. Johnson has appealed to police Magistrate O'Brien for refuge in the penitentiary because he is unable to earn an honest living and must either steal or starve. The magistrate granted Johnson's plea with the proviso that he would send him to the penitentiary in order to keep him from temptation and in the meantime would try to find some work for the ex-convict where he would not be reminded of his past.

MARTIN'S VIEWS ON PACKING PLANT

Says it is a Good Thing and Should be Pushed Along by the People of Salt Lake.

CITES RESULTS ELSEWHERE.

Contents That Prosperity of Western Cities Depends on Prosperity of Farmers and Stockmen.

Secretary C. F. Martin of the National Livestock association, arrived last evening from Portland en route to Denver, and registered at the Knutsford. In subsequent interviews he declared that Salt Lake people had the opportunity of their lives to get up and do something in pushing the proposed packing plant; and if they did not they were certainly chumps. It will be the best thing that ever happened to the city and state, he said, if the scheme is carried through. One has been established at Portland, and Salt Lake should be the next to fall into line. The movement now started in Salt Lake shall have the active assistance of the association. Mr. Martin declares that Salt Lake is an ideal location for such an industry. The contributory territory is very large, and when the Moffat and Los Angeles roads are finished, the means for adding to the importance of local packing interests will be materially increased.

Mr. Martin urges that the prosperity of every large western city depends on the prosperity of the farmers and stockmen, and the building of a packing house plant here means a great deal to the farmers and stockgrowers of Utah, Wyoming, Idaho and Nevada. The stock raising industry will be greatly encouraged, as growers will not feel any longer the burden of paying 2 1/2 cents for freight, when a profitable industry can be carried on right at their own doors. Moreover, a better grade of meat can be secured.

Mr. Martin called special attention to the fact that Utah is an excellent country in which to raise hogs which can be fattened on alfalfa wheat and barley. It is a fallacy to imagine that hogs can not be fattened except on corn, as in England the finest pork is raised without a pound of corn. In addition to alfalfa, wheat and barley, turnips, beets, and some kinds of seeds will produce the best kind of pork. Three pounds of wheat will produce a pound of pork, which is produced not less than a dollar a bushel for the grain. Mr. Martin also remarked that the packing trust would not care anything for competition from packing plants located in a view to settling the question of competition for plants located in the far western centers which would cut short their supplies. There is no question about a market for all the meat that can be produced west of the Rocky Mountains. In addition to the mining and other industries of this region, there are the oriental trade and the Alaskan trade, both of which are increasing at a rapid rate.

Mr. Martin says that both sheep and cattle men realize that something must be done to settle the range question, and he is conferring with leading stockmen with a view to settling the question. This will be taken up by a special commission appointed by President Springer, and which will meet in Denver early in August. Mr. Martin does not think the strike at the eastern packing centers will last very long, as the packers cannot afford to let their properties lie idle, and the work can not be handled by inexperienced men. As to the recent sheep slaughter in Colorado, Mr. Martin says the troubles between the sheep and cattle men have about subsided, and the locality where Mr. Saunders sheep were killed about the only place where any intense feeling exists.

A NAPOLEONIC DESK.

Rare Piece of European Furniture
Finds Place in Salt Lake Home.

A desk of great value, first because it was made for and used by Jerome Bonaparte, brother of Napoleon, when he was king of Westphalia, and second because of the exquisite workmanship which it contains, is now the property of Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Siegel, 620 east First South street, where it is the center of attraction in their collection of antique and artistic furniture. Mrs. Siegel first saw the desk while she was in Berlin last year and negotiations were commenced at the time looking to the purchase of the valuable relic and the deal has finally been consummated.

An American dealer discovered the desk among some Bonaparte relics in Berlin and purchased it with a view to selling it to Charles G. Bonaparte, of Baltimore, the great-grandson of Jerome Bonaparte, and he refused to purchase it, declaring that no relic of his great ancestors should find its way into his family by purchase and that France should concede the right of the heirs of the Bonaparte family to all the relics and should bequeath such to them. Mr. Siegel had arranged with the dealer for the purchase of the relic should Mr. Bonaparte refuse to buy it, hence she is now the owner of the desk.

RHEUMATISM

JOINTS AND MUSCLES SWOLLEN AND STIFF

A disease so painful and far-reaching in its effects upon the human system as Rheumatism, must have a deep and well-laid foundation. It originates and develops in the blood, and, like other diseases of the blood, is frequently inherited. The poisonous acids with which the blood is charged circulate through the system, breaking down the health, irritating the nerves, settling in joints and muscles, and causing the sharp, cutting pains peculiar to Rheumatism. Unless the blood is purified, joints and muscles become coated with the acid matter and are rendered stiff and sore, and the nerves completely wrecked. Rheumatism, being a constitutional blood disease, requires internal treatment. Liniments, plasters and such things as are applied outwardly, give only temporary relief. S. S. S. is the recognized great-est of all blood purifiers and tonics, and in no disease does it act so promptly and beneficially as Rheumatism, neutralizing the acids and restoring the blood to a pure, healthy condition and invigorating and toning up the nerves and all parts of the system. It is guaranteed strictly vegetable. Write us should you desire medical advice, which will cost you nothing.

DIED WITHOUT WARNING.

Old Soldier Stricken With Heart Failure on the Street.

Death came suddenly to Charles P. Sheldon, colored, at 6 o'clock last evening on the sidewalk in front of the St. Elmo hotel.

Sheldon, a man 56 years of age, has recently been working with R. Houser as a tiler on the new barracks at Fort Douglas. Yesterday afternoon he complained several times of being ill and laid off for an hour. At 5 o'clock he quit for the day and came down town with Houser. The two went into Houser's saloon on State street, near Third South, and Sheldon said he was going to see a doctor. The proprietor gave him $1 to help him carry out his purpose and Sheldon started. When he got to East Third street and Third South he gave out and sank onto the steps leading to the St. Elmo basement. A policeman who happened along saw the man was in a half-conscious condition and tried vainly to rouse him. He sent for the police ambulance, then returned to the sick man. The latter was dead before the ambulance arrived.
